This weekend we begin our Religious Education Program in the parish. If your child is not in our school then you should have them attending the RE program. The program begins with pre-school and goes all the way through year 6 in Sunday morning classes after the 8:30 liturgy at St. Ignatius. For those in year 7, 8, and 9 we have Confirmation classes on Saturday afternoon and those in high school we have Sunday evening sessions. Parents are the first educators of religion for their children. Your example of coming to church and teaching them about God is most important. Our RE classes help you with this and I hope that you all see the need for our young people to understand their faith and be able to explain it well. For all children who are making their first communion or confirmation either in our school or not in our school it is important that they be enrolled in our RE program or you need to speak with Mr. O'neil Miller.

Today we hear more from the Letter of James and his exploration of the controversial issue of faith and works, or that relationship between what we believe and what we do. The connection seems obvious, doesn't it? Why the apparent controversy?

Saint Paul teaches that we are saved by faith and faith alone. It is important to understand the context for this teaching. There was a conflict that developed in the early Church about the requirements for reception into the Church. Remember that Christianity began as a Jewish sect. The first Christians were Jewish and followed Jewish religious practices. Some of them thought that the first non-Jewish Christians had to essentially become Jews first and take on Jewish customs—notably that of circumcision and fasting from certain food items. Saint Paul, formerly Saul the Pharisee and zealous persecutor of Christians, argued that faith in Christ Jesus is all that is important, not outward acts of piety. At the Council of Jerusalem in the year 50 AD, the conclusion came down in St. Paul's favor—such practices were not required for Gentile Christians; their faith in Jesus was enough.

As so often happens, this teaching became exaggerated. Some claimed that "saved by faith alone" meant that as long as a Christian called on the Lord Jesus, the behavior of that Christian was of little consequence. James responds in today's reading that faith without good works is a dead faith.

Faith and works: for the individual Christian and the Christian community, it's an issue of balance. Our faith in Christ Jesus and our reading of the gospel prompts us to good works. Our good works build the kingdom only if they are rooted in the gospel and in a relationship with Jesus and the community of his disciples we call the Church. Such a relationship needs nurturing—learning about our faith, reading the Scriptures, quiet time for prayer, common prayer with the community (liturgy), and yes, doing good works, too.

This is what is taught in our RE program and it is important that we all have not only an understanding of our faith but also the willingness to do good works. Jesus asks his disciples today: "Who do you say that I am?" Can we answer that question from faith alone? I believe that we need to also realize that faith in Jesus means doing the works he did and more. Jesus gives us all the tools we need to be his followers and to be the ones sent out into the world to bring the Gospel message to a world that is not often filled with hope. Upon realizing he has been given God like powers, Jim Carey in "Bruce Almighty" shouts, "I've got the power!" We do too when we like Jesus, who was God, accept and offer our gifts to the parish and the world. Yet, like in the gospel today we know that that "power" does not come without the cross. Answer Jesus' question today: "Who do you say that I am?"

SCHOLARSHIP APPEAL— A new school year has begun! The St. Ignatius/Dorothy Rice Scholarship Fund has been in existence for the past nine years. The fund was created to allow eligible students to continue receiving a Catholic Education. The annual fee at St. Ignatius are about $6500 per student. The scholarship fund tries to cover about 15-20% of this for needy families. Last year, thanks to the generosity of parishioners and the sale of Mother's Day/Father's Day cards, we assisted more the 40 children with about CI$35,000 total. In return for the help the families must volunteer to work at school events during the term. Unfortunately, due to Hurricane Ivan, it has been very difficult to do any fund-raising on the local level over the past two years. At the same time, costs all over the island have risen dramatically, and many families who never previously applied for assistance are now coming forward. Any assistance from the parishioners is always gratefully received. One can never put a price tag on the value of a child's education. Any cheques should be made payable to
