The Miraculous Catch of Fish

(Luke 5:1-11)

"We worked hard all night and caught nothing," said Peter in today's Gospel reading. Peter was quite often at the end of his resources. He had given up everything to follow Jesus. It didn't matter that all he gave up was a boat and a few nets; it was everything he had. It is not these (or any material possession) that would hold him back, but his reliance on them. He had had the courage to come to the end of his resources. Later he would be dragged even further beyond. The man he followed would be killed, and having nothing else to do he would go back to fishing; but that terrible night too he would catch nothing (Jn 21:3). He would be without a past and without a future.

Peter is called in three challenges:

First, to share his boat with Jesus, then to cast his nets into the deep, and finally to accept the abundance of his catch in spite of his sinfulness. Getting into the boat with Peter, Jesus asked him to put out a short distance from the shore. Then Jesus dares Peter to cast his net into the deep. Peter obeys as did Abraham, Moses, and Isaiah when the word of God came to them.

The abundance of the catch unveils the mission and mystery of the church, the New people, Jesus is calling forth. Jesus has come to catch people in the net of God's merciful love that they may be born together into a new life of joy and freedom. Peter and his partners are struck dumb with amazement and fear of the power that is the burning bush in the person of Jesus. He is transforming them. Peter's converted heart is awakened to the joy of self abandonment. In freedom he and his partners leave all to follow him.

How important it is to come to the end of your resources!
When we surrender to Jesus in faith like Peter, we too can experience miraculous results.

IT'S ALL ABOUT DADDY

'It's All About Daddy' is a book of poetry written by Jody Esi Otu, daughter of Mr. Joe Otu, who is a member of our Church Community. Jody lives in Montego Bay, Jamaica and was inspired to write these poems through the death of her paternal grandfather. She identified with the mournful state of her father and sought to lift his spirit through poetry.

Copies of these books are available at the Grotto Gift Shop at St. Ignatius for a cost of CI$ 25 (hard cover).

Jodi Otu will be available for a book signing at the Parish's BBQ at Public Beach today.

FROM THE MUSIC DIRECTOR'S DESK

I want to take this time to thank all of you that gave me such a warm welcome last week. It was great meeting you personally as I begin my Music Ministry here at St. Ignatius. I want to also thank Father Paul for everything he has done for me. A special thank you to Al Chin and Simon Donoghue for briefing me on the music program and taking time to work with me. Thank you to the choir members for being patient with me on my first rehearsal. I am impressed with the level of music here at St. Ignatius. This is because of Simon Donoghue and Albert Chin superb musicians who led the music ministry here for so long. Also, a special thank you to O'Neil Miller and May Ursua for making my transition here to Cayman Islands as smooth as possible. I look forward to taking over this superb Music Ministry and continuing the traditions of the Catholic Church in the Cayman Islands.

Next weekend we celebrate World Marriage Day. There will be a special Blessing of Married Couples at all the Masses on the weekend. There will also be a special recognition of those who are celebrating mile-
